WEDDING IN LURAY.

Beautifal Tableau Marringe in the Baptist Church.

LURAY, V.A., April II.—Special.—The wedding of Flora Alice Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Weaver, of Luray, and Bedford Marshall Downing, of Front Royal, which took place in the Main-Street Baptist Church of Luray, at 5 o'clock this afternoon, was one of the most beautiful in the history of the town. The church was handsomely decorated with palms and ferns, and the caremony was performed by Rev. T. A. Kennard, under a graceful floral arch surmounted by the initials of the bride and groom. The role of maid of honor was illed by Miss Frances Selbert; best man. W. Edward Weaver; bridesmaids, Misses Bessie Selbert, Lula Perry, Mamie Hudson and Frances White; ushers, Messrs. Clarence M. Ginnis, Charles White, Julian Price, and W. K. Adams.

The entrance of the bridal party was unique. At the appointed hour the ushers walked slowly up the right aise to the strains of the wedding march from Lobengrin and formed a double row, between which the bidesmaids passed, then down the left aisle, followed by the ushers, to meet the bride. In the vestry the procession reformed, and re-entered to the music of Mendelssohn's wedding march,
